ARCHIV BIBLIOGRAPHIA JUDAICA - DEUTSCHSPRACHIGES JUDENTUM ONLINE

Bio-bibliographische Sammlung, 18.-20. Jh.

[Archiv Bibliographia Judaica – German Jewry Online: Bio-bibliographic collection, 18th to the 20th centuries]

Since the Enlightenment, German-speaking Jews have built an impressive cultural heritage. But the persecution and extermination of the Jewish people during the Nazi era together with emigration since the 1930s destroyed, fragmented or scattered much of this extensive German-Jewish heritage. This database compiles and collects bio-bibliographic information on more than 20,000 German-speaking Jews who were leading figures in literature, philosophy, religion, art, music and politics.

Based on the Archive Bibliographia Judaica (ABJ) in Frankfurt am Main, founded by Renate Heuer, the database is a unique document of German-Jewish heritage. Users can search biographical information on 15,000 individuals using precise criteria (occupation, date of birth and death, gender among others), as well as study their bibliographies on ca. 250,000 linked and scanned index cards. Another 5,000 entries will be added in 2022. The complete database is intended to give a comprehensive overview of all of the writings or documents written by German-speaking Jews.

In addition, the database integrates even more detailed biographical and bibliographical information on 1,300 authors included in the printed Lexikon deutsch-jüdischer Autoren [Encyclopedia of German-Jewish Authors]. The database is the only resource to offer this information in a structured, searchable format.

An interface to the Judaica Collection at University Library Frankfurt/M. allows for access to some of the full texts of the works documented in the scanned bibliographies. Wherever possible, the biographical entries are linked to the Integrated Authority File GND and the Virtual International Authority File VIAF. Moreover, there is also a link to the German Biography ADB / NDB.

An interface to open-access sources links the bio-bibliographic content to useful full texts.
